JACK HARBERTSON TO MEET
PET BROWN OF TEXAS

Jack Harbertson.

With everything in readiness at the Alhambra theatre and numbers of fans arriving in the city on almost every train, local interest was centered today in the world's championship wrestling match to be staged tonight at the big Hudson avenue playhouse. In that event, world's champion, Pet Brown of Taylor, Texas, is to pit his title and the strength and skill that gained it, against the brawn and skill of Jack Harbertson, the native son whose rapid rise to the front in the wrestling world has created international attention. Well known to be mixers from the tap of the tongue in most of their previous matches and with a spirit of antagonism fostered through quoted opinions of each other, Brown and Harbertson are expected to put up the greatest struggle ever seen on a mat in the western country.

Brown, optimistic of victory, made the following statement: "I never lost a match yet and I don't expect to this time. Harbertson is tough and defeated Mike Yokel, but he never could have beaten the Mike Yokel of two years ago, or have thrown the Mike that I wrestled last time, but I am thoroughly confident of victory tonight."

Harry Heagren, who represented the champion in signing articles for the bout, was also sanguine of victory for the Texan. His opinion today was stated as follows: "Why, sure, Pet will win. Harbertson is unbeat at 165, but at 158, he can't throw Brown. There isn't a man in the world, it seems, who can. At that, though, I wouldn't say it would be any time before three hours, for that fellow Jack has even more endurance than Mike Yokel." Against these opinions, Sam Clapham, the English wrestler who has been Harbertson's wrestling partner during his period of preparation for the bout now at hand, says: "To say that Harbertson has improved in the past couple of years would be putting it mildly. The gameness and generalship displayed in defeating such men as Mike Yokel, Joe Turner, George Cotsonarus and myself—and Sam is 'some' wrestler—should without doubt place him among the foremost wrestlers of today and a new scalp will most certainly adorn his belt after the bout tonight, the victim to be an ex-champion by the name of Pet Brown. Harbertson's strength is amazing and the way he has thrown around his wrestling partners would convince anyone as to his condition. George Jenkins is a trainer of the first class and, with him in the camp, Jack has had a man of great experience. Jack is going into this bout to win and if it lasts three minutes or three hours, there will be a new world's champion."

Harbertson, who never has much to say, reiterated briefly the confidence expressed by Clapham, saying that he had waited long for his chance at the championship title and that it would be his when the bout tonight was over.

Manager H. E. Skinner, of the Alhambra Theatrical company, was sanguine this afternoon of the big wrestling match being a financial success. The rinkside accommodations, he said, were such that there would be no trouble in seeing the wrestlers on the mat, from any part of the house. Both men finished their training yesterday and at 3 o'clock this afternoon, weighed in at the Alhambra theatre, before representatives of the press, their managers and trainers, representatives of the Alhambra Theatrical company and a big crowd of

SALT LAKE UTES
TO MEET BEAVERS

Six Games With Portland Team This Week at Majestic Park.

Salt Lake, May 16.—Ball games at Majestic park henceforth will begin at 3 o'clock.

A three-weeks joyfest for Salt Lake fans begins today, when the Portland Beavers open a six-game series at Majestic park. The Beavers are in the cellar, but they are neither discouraged nor dismayed. They have a perfectly competent alibi in the weather. They point out that the club has not had opportunity this season to play enough baseball to keep in practice. There no doubt is something to this plea, for the list of postponements at Portland already numbers nine or ten.

The fans will have their first sight of the phenomenal Louie Guisto, who has made thirty-seven hits this season. Of these, nineteen were for extra bases, ten being doubles, one a triple and eight home runs. A remarkable record is presented, therefore, for Guisto has hit more extra-base clouts than he has slammed singles—a rare performance, indeed.

TO HELP THE GIANTS

Hans Lobert.

Hans Lobert, the Giants' peppery third baseman who had been out of the game for some while with a bum leg, has recently rejoined the team and will make the western trip with them, hoping to get into the line-up and help the team hit its proper stride. Lobert is still obliged to walk with a cane, but the soreness is leaving and the Dutchman declares he will soon be active again.

New York, May 15.—Cleveland made it two straight from New York here today, winning 6 to 4. Cliff Markle was knocked out of the box in three innings and lost his first game since he came to the New York club last September. He had won five straight, two last year and three this year. New York hit Morton in every inning, but not effectively.

Caldwell was ordered off the field in the seventh inning. Maisel injured his right shoulder in fielding Grane's home run in the sixth inning and was forced to retire.

As evidence of the popularity of the Michigander, more than 500 persons had to be turned away from his training quarters yesterday afternoon. At 1 o'clock the fans began to pack the place, and by 3:30, which was the time set for the workout, the crowd reached down the stairs and out into the street.

When the famous scrapper appeared with his manager, Larney Lichenstein, it was all the two could do to gain entrance to the building.

Wolfgang extended himself yesterday in seven rounds, crossing mitts with Young Burns, a Pacific coast lightweight, who has been secured as sparring partner by the ex-champ. He also took Yankee Allen on for a three-round mill.

BIG FIGHT IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake, May 16.—Expecting one of the largest fight crowds that has been packed around a roped arena in Salt Lake in years, the committee in charge of the finances of the Wizard of the West sent a small army of carpenters to the Auditorium yesterday morning to remodel the large building in such a manner that fully 6000 fans may witness the coming battle between Ad Wolfgang, former champion of the world, and Pat Gilbert, the pride of the city and holder of the western championship.

The hall will be arranged so that a clear view of the ring may be obtained from every seat in the house.

Feeling that they were in perfect condition, both lads worked out in the ring yesterday for the last time before the big mill. Today they will do light road work and will be content with shadow boxing.

The impetus of this attack swept the Russians through the favorite province of the Kaiser, and in ten days the Unter den Linden was filled with panic-stricken refugees that had fled before the avalanche so suddenly launched from the East. At a critical moment in the West, when the German vanguard was almost within sight of the Eiffel Tower, the Germans shifted an important body of troops from the West of protect the East from Russian inroads. The Russians say that six corps were sent to East Prussia, while the French claim it was but four. But the figures are not material. What we know is that after their departure for the East came the battle of the Marne and the turning point of the war.

The Russians paid for this by the loss of almost their entire East Prussian army, but they say their sacrifice saved Paris. History, no doubt, will establish the facts, but on the evidence available at present their claim seems logical and will, I believe, be ultimately credited to them as their first great contribution to the Allies' cause. This single phase of the war alone proves that there is such a thing as victory in defeat when that defeat was achieved by the enemy at the cost of the weakening of another front and the consequent victory of an ally in a more strategically important theater of operations. The loss of East Prussia and of one entire army was a mere drop in the bucket of Russia's sacrifice, while, on the other hand, the failure of the Germans to take Paris in 1914 promises to stand out of the war as one of the great turning points in the world's history. So much for Russia's first entrance into the European theater of operations.

Some New Beavers.

The Portland club will present a lot of new faces to Salt Lake fans today. There will be a new catcher in the person of Jack Roche, who succeeds Fred Carich. Byron Houk, Herb Kelly and Allen Sothoron are some of McCredie's new pitchers. Three heavies of last year's crew are still with the club—Irvie Higginbottom, Johnny Lush and Wynn Noyes. Oscar Harstad, another new Beaver pitcher, has been left behind to get more training. It is reported. At First McCredie will display Guisto. At second he has Bobby Vaughn. Bill Stumpf at third, and Ward at short, are holdovers, but Hollocher is a newcomer. Billy Speas is the only outfielder remaining of last year's bunch except Bobby Southworth. Denny White and Bill Nixon are also new faces.

On their own side the Salt Lake fans will also gaze upon some new men. Jack Warhop, Stanley Dougan and Joe Chabek are additions to the Salt slab staff since the club left home. Chabek was signed Sunday. He was sent to the Oaks by Brooklyn as part payment for Jimmy Johnston, and was released by Elliott. Warhop comes from the New York Americans, and Dougan from the Cincinnati Nationals.

Pittsburg, May 15.—Charles Ellis of Chicago, three-cushion billiard champion, who is defending his title here against Charles McCourt of Pittsburg, lost the first block in his match by a score of 50 to 29 in fifty-eight innings.

RUSSIA WAS NOT PREPARED FOR WAR

At the beginning of the war, as is now well understood, the Russians had planned an immediate offensive. Their policy was to defend their frontiers while their huge strength was mobilizing. The rush on Paris in the West, however, threatened the
